St. Mary the Virgin, Oxford. This most interesting church has been linked for centuries with 'Varsity history. Its oldest part dates back to Norman times, the tower to the reign of Edward I., chancel 1462, nave 1498, its porch with spiral columns and Madonna 1637. Here Wycliffe preached, Cranmer was tried 1555; here was Amy Robsart's funeral, here in 1566 Queen Elizabeth herself made a speech in Latin. Here Wesley preached and many famous divines, not forgetting John Henry Newman, who was vicar here 1828-1843.
